Free breakfast for Pourakarmikas from Nov. 15

MCC's Rs. 1.83 crore Annual Scheme to feed 2,400 civic workers daily

Mysuru, Nov.12 (RK&DM)- The Mysuru City Corporation's (MCC) ambitious plan to provide free breakfast daily to hundreds of Pourakarmikas is all set to take off on Nov.15, marking Kanakadasa Jayanti.

The breakfast Scheme will be launched at 8 am on Nov.15. A meeting was held at the MCC office here this morning during which the modalities of the scheme were discussed. However, an official announcement on the launch is awaited.

The Scheme, when implemented, will benefit over 2,400 Pourakarmikas including 2,138 working in sweeping and cleaning section and 238 employed in underground drainage (UGD) section. The MCC has issued an annual Rs.1.83 crore tender for providing free breakfast to the civic workers for a period of one year. The Scheme covers all the 65 Wards of the MCC under nine Zones.

It may be mentioned that the free breakfast Scheme was supposed to be launched on Mar.1, 2017, when the MCC authorities had said that they would provide free nutritious breakfast to all the Pourakarmikas who clean the city between 6 am and 10 am. When the breakfast idea was mooted in 2017, the MCC authorities had maintained that a majority of civic workers don't find time to prepare breakfast as they leave their homes for work early in the morning.

The authorities had contended that Pourakarmikas had to invariably wait for food standing in front of hotels, which was rather embarrassing for them.

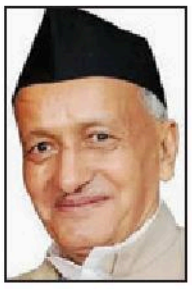
Also, during many health camps it was found that skipping breakfast was one of the reasons for Pourakarmikas falling ill often. The MCC had planned to use funds from the SC/ST welfare fund for the Scheme.

Now, after over two-and-half-years since the idea was mooted, the Scheme is seeing the light of the day, with the MCC all set to launch the initiative, much to the cheer of the Pourakarmikas who keep the city clean and maintain hygiene.

When the proposed Scheme was brought to the notice of the then CM Siddharamaiah, he had advised the MCC not to hand over the Scheme to inexperienced agencies but to approach ISKCON's Akshaya Patra.

President's Rule in Maharashtra ?

Mumbai, Nov. 12- As the impasse over Government formation continues in Maharashtra, Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari has reportedly recommended President's Rule in the State. The Governor had given time to Nationalist Congress Party (NCP), headed by former Union Minister Sharad Pawar, till 8.30pm today to prove it had the numbers.



Bhagat Singh Koshyari

Earlier, Shiv Sena failed to get letters of support from the Congress and NCP, before the deadline set by the Governor, who rejected its plea for three more days to do so.

As the deliberations for Government formation in Maharashtra reached a feverish pitch, the Congress has indicated it is keen on the Chief Minister post from its ally NCP backed by the Shiv Sena.

Sources said that as soon as the news about Governor's recommendation came out in public, Shiv Sena announced that it would move the Supreme Court against the Governor's recommendation.

Meanwhile, Senior Congress leaders Mallikarjuna Kharge and Ahmed Patel rushed to Mumbai to assess the situation.

Questioning the Governor on reports of President's Rule in Maharashtra, Shiv Sena leader Priyanka Chaturvedi tweeted, "How can the Honourable Governor recommend President Rule till the time given to NCP doesn't lapse?"

Before inviting NCP and Shiv Sena, Goveror Koshyari had invited the BJP to form the Government. However, BJP refused to form the Government as they did not have the required numbers.

In the just concluded Maharashtra Assembly polls, BJP secured 105 seats, Shiv Sena (56), Congress (44), Nationalist Congress Party (54) and Independents (29) in the 288-Member House.

Pesky pesticides

Not many may have read about the hundreds of Acts directly or indirectly related to administration, ostensibly to provide flawless governance of the land ensuring welfare of all sections of the country's steadily expanding population, lately reported to be on the cusp of 140 crore. Number of even the literate or those who are expected to be familiar, let alone be conversant with the nuances of administration focused upon the multitude of Acts may very well be an infinitesimal fraction of the country's total headcount. One such Act, which must be in the armoury of the cognoscenti, including the honourable practitioners of law stands out, namely Food Safety and Standards Act 2006. As in cases of virtually all Acts of the nation, this one also is entrusted to a body of officials for implementing the measures which are in the nature of their rules and regulations, not to forget the punitive steps in case of violating those provisions. We are talking of Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI) formed in August 2011, an autonomous body established under the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, Government of India.

FSSAI is responsible for protecting and promoting public health through the regulation and supervision of food safety. The body with its headquarters in New Delhi also has six regional offices, not one in Karnataka. The fact that the Authority has 72 State/ Union Territory laboratories located throughout India and 112 laboratories are NABL (National Accreditation Board for Testing and Calibration Laboratories) accredited private laboratories should give a feeling to the nation's millions that all is well with the food they consume. But, reality?

To pass adverse comments on the efficiency of FSSAI's working and the extent to which the body has protected the safe norms applicable to food doesn't require knowledge of rocket science. Given the economic, ethnic, educational, social and beliefs diversity of the land's diaspora, one may have to prepare a virtual encyclopaedia of rules and regulations to guide the Authority in its functioning. While India's food basket has its components, as diverse as they are, treated in trading circles as commodity for profiteering, concern about its safety for the consuming public takes a back seat. Loss of food's safety factor begins in a big way on the fields, ahead of their moving to the storage stage and thereafter the foods lost both quantitatively and qualitatively is anybody's guess. Taking care of the food stock seems to be everybody's responsibility but nobody's duty.

In the backdrop of the foregoing preamble, the front page headline "Farmers, consumers and ecology fall prey to pesticides" succinctly portrays the total dependence on pesticide chemicals to protect food safety and the utter helplessness of FSSAI in ensuring safe food to all in the nation. The choice is between pests devouring food raised for human consumption and pesky pesticides that are a necessary evil.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

BE A PART OF GREAT CHANGE:* Today the world is riddled with problems of every kind — political conflicts, economic recession, environmental hazards, poverty, terrorism, ethnic conflicts, disease, natural disasters, inflation, social and familial divides — the list of troubles is long and multiplying. Apart from the looming dangers of global warming, our world is precariously balanced on a stockpile of nuclear arsenals that can trigger a holocaust of unimaginable magnitude. While we watch, hear and read about major scams, scandals, disasters, and crime in the media there are numerous such incidents of violence and moral turpitude that occur on a daily basis in social, professional and individual lives. We all know that every problem attracts search for solutions, which leads to new knowledge, invention, and change. When we look at the present scenario of the world, we wonder what is the solution or way to end all our problems and suffering? Moreover, one must remember that no situation can continue forever and hence even problems escalate and come to an end. — Brahmakumar Nikunj in Deccan Herald

Man wants to "immortalise" his live sperm in a ring

London: an unnamed man, who has five kids, is preparing to have a vasectomy but hopes to "immortalise" his live sperm before then in a piece of jewellery. This ring, will then be given as an amusing Christmas gift to his wife - if he can get one made in time.

The London-based dad says he and his wife are always pranking each other with unusual gifts and he thinks this one could be the best yet. He said: "To cut to the chase I'm looking for a jeweller who can put my sperm into a ring which I'm going to give my wife for Christmas.

"I know this type of jewellery can be quite expensive, so I've set aside around £1,500 for the ring, I'm not really looking to spend any more than that."

The man claims to have been looking for a jeweller to help for a month, to no avail.

12cm flesh-eating tapeworm removed from man's brain

Beijing: A man has had a 12cm-long flesh-eating tapeworm removed from his head which had been slowly eating his brain for the past 15 years.

He has seen multiple specialists and was once treated for a malignant brain tumour, as doctors tried to figure the cause of his issues. But the young man's condition continued to worsen .

In 2018, doctors discovered that a tapeworm was living in his brain and they advised the patient to undergo non-surgical treatment.

Unfortunately, the tapeworm continued to live in Wang's head and he recently underwent an operation at the Guangdong Sanjiu Brain Hospital to remove it. Following the two-hour procedure, doctors removed the worm commonly found in the intestines of cats and dogs, but rarely in people, according to reports.

"The live tapeworm was moving in his brain and we had to remove all of it otherwise the leftover part could grow again," the doctors said.

What can I do to combat afternoon energy slumps?

The best way to avoid energy slumps is to be well-hydrated. Dehydration causes fatigue and has a negative impact on brain function. Being only 1% dehydrated lowers brain function by 5%. Dr. Trisha MacDonald recommends drinking 1 gallon of water per day to increase energy.

Ordeal of a voter in getting change of address in ID

Sir,

I had a terrible experience to change my address in the voters identity card (ID). First I had to submit the voter's ID along with the relevant papers at the Akashavani Circle Corporation Office. Then I was given the cancellation acknowledgement and asked to give it to the school where Booth Level Officers (BLOs) were receiving it.

As I had to change it to Dattagalli I was asked to go to a school close to my house and submit the papers there.

Now comes the glitch. The said school said they had stopped receiving it for the past 15 days and asked us to go to another school slightly far away. This school received from "A" to "I" Blocks and as I was in "J" block not included.

Meanwhile, no BLO was to be seen. So I rang up my area Corporator who was as clueless as me and said he will find out. The next step was to call MCC and ask for the relevant phone numbers of the Election Commissioner. No one answered at MCC, Taluk Office and even personal phones of the officers enlisted went unanswered.

Lastly, I called the Tahshildar and he said go to Room No. 104 in the Office and see the list. If it meant going to Taluk Office why at all have these local centres?

None of the phones even on my repeated calling were neither answered. So what does a layman do?

Voting is my right and to exercise it I have to undergo so much trouble. It makes me think why take the trouble to get it done when so much hassle is concerned. The online correction is also not user-friendly.

It would be better if this voters correction centres list is announced in local newspapers so everybody gets to know of it.

Pothole-ridden roads in Siddarthanagar

Sir,

A major problem in Siddarthanagar is the roads that are filled with potholes. If you start from Nazarbad Police Station towards Milk Dairy, in front of the dairy we can see the potholes. Still if you come towards Income Tax Office, that road has been in a disturbing state from the past 10 years.

From MRC Eye Hospital to Kurubarahalli, the drainage work was completed one year before and the potholes were closed with mud because of which, the two-lane road has now reduced to single lane.

Further if you come from the main road of Siddarthanagar, potholes can be listed as follows: In front of AV Hospital bus top, in front of JSS Public School and GSSS School, in front of Jain Temple.

If you move forward to Sangeetha Corner, the road is filled with vehicles and none of the car owners will park in the designated parking zone. As a result, the city buses can't move freely thus creating too much traffic chaos. All the interior roads in Siddarthanagar are very bad.

Main Roads connecting to Bannur, Chamundi Temple, Kollegal are good but the ones with residential areas are very bad. Hope the concerned will look into it and take up the needed repair works at the earliest.

MCC issues ultimatum to cattle owners

Two squads formed to check stray cattle menace

Mysuru, Nov.12 (DM)- Despite several warnings issued by the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to cattle owners, the stray cattle menace has continued unabated across the city.

The animals are seen roaming about freely on prominent roads and streets in many residential areas, especially on Mahadevapura Main Road, Shivaji Park, Triveni Circle, RMC Yard, Vidyaranyapuram, Nazarbad, Kurubarahalli Circle, Bamboo Bazar, Kurubageri, Lashkar Mohalla, Mandi Mohalla, Sunnadakeri, Agrahara, Ittigegud, Devaraja Market, etc., causing nuisance and also posing a threat to the safety of pedestrians and motorists, particularly two-wheeler riders.

Following numerous complaints, the MCC had issued two notices — Nov.13, 2017 and Jan.27, 2018 — warning the cattle owners against letting their cattle to roam about on public roads.

But as the warnings seemed to have made little impact, the MCC penalised the errant cattle owners by fining them Rs.500 for the first time and seizing the cattle for repeat offence.

The cattle so seized were sheltered at Pinjrapole on the outskirts of the city.

But as the menace continues despite levying fine, the MCC has formed two squads that will work in shifts to effectively tackle the stray cattle menace.

Ahead of launching a serious drive to end the stray cattle menace, the MCC has once again cautioned the cattle owners not to let the animals on to the streets and to tie them in their own spaces and sheds, considering the safety of the public, according to a release from the MCC Commissioner.

KSOU to launch mobile app to provide instant information to students

Mysuru, Nov.12 (SBD&DM)- The Karnataka State Open University (KSOU) will be releasing a mobile app shortly, to provide information to students.

Prof.S.Vidyashankar

The KSOU is in the process of developing a mobile app, from which the students can download their required study materials at any point of time. Apart from the study materials, the app will have supplementary study materials along with audio and video clippings.

KSOU Vice-Chancellor Prof.S. Vidyashankar said that the University is in talks with State owned KEONICS for developing the mobile app and the app is expected to come out within four months.

Pointing out that the app will contain all study materials, he said that there are plans to introduce the app from the next academic year. The students will be provided user ID and password to open the app, he said and added that this mobile app will be of huge benefit to the students as it saves both cost and time.

Meanwhile, the KSOU, as a reformist measure, is also planning to install the study materials in a Tab, thus saving crores of rupees in printing of text books and other study materials. Also, as the students from far off places find it difficult to personally carry big bundles of text books, the installation in the tab will largely help the students in reducing the burden of carrying books.

This apart, the Tabs are available at Rs. 5,000 which may not be a burden to the students, considering the fact that they have to spend money every year for buying study materials and text books.

The University is likely to make these Tabs available in the next six months.

Yediyurappa keen on fielding C.P. Yogeshwar from Hunsur

Bengaluru, Nov.12 (KMS& DM)- With Hunsur going to the by-poll along with 14 other Assembly segments in the State on Dec. 5, Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa is said to be keen on fielding former Minister and party strongman from Channapatna C.P. Yogeshwar from the prestigious Hunsur Assembly segment in Mysuru district.

Yediyurappa

Yogeshwar

The by-poll in Hunsur was necessitated after the then Assembly Speaker disqualified A.H. Vishwanath, who had won on a JD(S) ticket in the 2018 Assembly polls.

Yediyurappa is said to be banking on Yogeshwar to win the seat, after disgruntled senior JD(S) leader and Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda chose to remain silent on his next move. Devegowda has already declared that his son G.D. Harishgowda, who has a good support base in Hunsur, will not contest the Dec. 5 by-poll.

The BJP is said to be mulling on giving the party ticket to a strong Vokkaliga leader in Hunsur and considering the fact that Yogeshwar is a Vokkaliga, the party may finalise his candidature from Hunsur just a day before the Nov.18 deadline for filing of nomination papers.

Discontent brews in Congress over ticket distribution for by-polls

Bengaluru, Nov.12 (KMS&DM)- Even as the Congress has gone into poll mode with the issuance of notification for by-polls to 15 Assembly segments, trouble is brewing in the party as the fight between old party stalwarts and migrants has escalated over distribution of the party tickets.

The differences came to light at the party meeting chaired by KPCC President Dinesh Gundu Rao in the State capital yesterday, when senior Congress leader and former Minister D.K. Shivakumar (DKS) reportedly got engaged in a war of words with Opposition leader and former CM Siddharamaiah over distribution of party tickets for the by-polls.

During the meeting, Shivakumar is said to have insisted on fielding candidates who have good organisational capabilities and better chances of winning. Pointing to the fact that the party has finalised the tickets to eight Assembly segments based on Siddharamaiah's recommendation, DKS is said to have asked the former CM and KPCC President Dinesh Gundu Rao to take the suggestions of other senior leaders in the selection of the party candidates for the remaining seats.

Upset over Siddharamaiah's decision to field Lakhan Jarkiholi from Gokak, DKS is said to have insisted on fielding Ashok Pujari from Gokak and Raju Kage from Kagawad. Both Pujari and Kage are senior BJP leaders, who have announced their decision to quit BJP and join Congress. He is also said to have told Siddharamaiah in no uncertain terms that he would stay away with campaigning if he (Siddu) unilaterally decides on the selection of Congress candidates for the by-polls.

The battle between DKS and Siddharamaiah is said to be a tussle between the party's old guard and migrant leaders to gain control of the party and have an upper hand in the selection of party candidates, which the Congress has taken seriously.

Vishwanath expresses hope of getting justice from Supreme Court

Rubbishes Yogeshwar's candidature from Hunsur as rumours

Mysuru, Nov.12 (RK&DM)- On the day when the Election Commission announced the notification for by-polls to 15 Assembly segments in the State, including Hunsur, disqualified MLA from Hunsur A.H. Vishwanath has said that he was confident of getting justice from the Supreme Court, which is likely to give it's verdict on a batch of petitions filed by disqualified MLAs seeking quashing of their disqualification on Nov. 14.

A.H. Vishwanath

Speaking to presspersons here on Monday, Vishwanath maintained that the then Assembly Speaker K.R. Ramesh Kumar had wrongfully disqualified him along with 16 other Legislators from the Congress and the JD(S) ahead of the trust vote moved by the coalition Government headed by H.D. Kumaraswamy in July.

Reacting to speculations that the BJP would field C.P. Yogeshwar from Hunsur, he said that this was mere rumours floated by the supporters of Yogeshwar.

Refusing to reply to a query on his possible candidature as a BJP candidate, Vishwanath also declined to comment on JD(S) supremo H.D. Devegowda's soft stance towards the BJP.

BJP faces rebellion in disqualified Legislators' Constituencies

Mysuru, Nov.12- Even as it is preparing for the Dec. 5 by-polls, the ruling BJP is facing rebellion from within the party in the fielding of party candidates in Constituencies represented by disqualified Legislators.

Raju Kage

Soon after realising that he would not get the party ticket, senior BJP leader Raju Kage, who was a BJP aspirant for the party ticket from Kagawad Assembly segment in Belagavi district, is all set to quit the party and join the Congress today, which has promised him the ticket.

Likewise, BJP leaders in several Constituencies are said to be preparing to quit the party, after coming to know that they won't get the party ticket, as the BJP in all likelihood will field the disqualified Legislators or to the candidates suggested by them for the Dec. 5 by-poll.

In another blow to the BJP, senior BJP leader from Gokak Ashok Poojari too is all set to defect to the Congress and contest the by-poll on a Congress ticket.

Poojari too is likely to join the Congress along with Raju Kage today and take on Ramesh Jarkiholi, who in all probability will contest the Gokak by-poll on a BJP ticket.

It may be mentioned here that it was Ramesh Jarkiholi who triggered the collapse of the coalition Government and paved way for the formation of BJP Government in the State.

Tughlak lives, so do his ideas

Point of VIEW

T.J.S. George

Plans are proceeding at breakneck speed to change the history, geography, archaeology, philosophy and essence of Delhi. The central vista, the imposing Secretariat buildings, Raj Path with its sprawling expanses on both sides, even the majestic Parliament building will all be gone. A completely new capital city will rise from the ashes. The master plan specifies the dates on which each new phase must be completed. The last one, the construction of the new common Secretariat, must be finished in 2024 which coincidentally is the last year of Shri Narendrabhai Modiji's present term.

Further details are not given out yet. But it is obvious that the capital idea's soul force is the Prime Minister. Tradition demands that capitals bear the names of their builders. When Byzantium, the city that connects Asia with Europe, was rebuilt by Roman Emperor Constantine, it was renamed Constantinople which popular usage turned into Istanbul. It will only be fair if we, too, follow such examples and give our brand-new capital city the name of its visionary builder.

As luck would have it, the re-imagining of the national capital is being handled by Hardeep Singh Puri, former Diplomat who joined the BJP and became a Minister. As with all new converts, he is more anxious than others to show his newfound loyalties. He has already got a master plan done, and got the cost reduced from Rs. 500 crore to Rs. 300 crore. That the company was from Gujarat must have helped. The project cost will be Rs. 12,450 crore, he said. Dead cheap for the grand new capital of a grand new country. When he was a diplomat, Hardeep Singh Puri wrote books with apt titles. One was "Perilous Interventions." Another, "Delusional Politics," seemed to anticipate his post-retirement ambitions.

Delusional interventions have always been part of Delhi's history. Seven centuries ago Sultan Mohammed bin Tughlak had hit upon the same idea. This was no ordinary Sultan. Highly educated, he is remembered as a man who thought ahead of his time. He conceptualised the idea of token currency and gave it up when economic chaos followed. He shifted his capital to Deogiri in Aurangabad area of today's Maharashtra and renamed it Daulatabad. The population of Delhi were told to move to Daulatabad. Widespread misery and sufferings and deaths occurred as multitudes trekked to the new capital. He was saddened by that, abandoned Daulatabad and returned to Delhi. Widespread misery and sufferings and deaths occurred again as multitudes trekked back to Delhi. Tughlak became known as the "wise fool."

Tughlak at least had the wisdom to undo his foolishness. These days we don't see leaders who admit to mistakes, leave alone undoing them. Look at Donald Trump. But give the devil his due, he has made no effort to shift America's capital out of Washington DC. He didn't even try to change the skyline so that it will have a Trump look. That is one thing good about advanced countries. Once people reach a level of settled civilisation, they don't tamper with their heritage. Landmarks of a nation's legacy are treated with pride.

> "Tughlak at least had the wisdom to undo his foolishness. These days we don't see leaders who admit to mistakes, leave alone undoing them. Look at Donald Trump. But give the devil his due, he has made no effort to shift America's capital out of Washington DC. He didn't even try to change the skyline so that it will have a Trump look.

Can we ever imagine Englishmen giving up their Parliament House on the banks of the Thames in London because a Prime Minister wants it so? It is a symbol of Great Britain and it is a sight that fills every Englishman with self-esteem. The original building was destroyed by a fire in 1834. They rebuilt it. The 2nd World War caused extensive damage to the building. They rebuilt it again, as it was. (The building is said to be sinking now for geographic reasons. The Big Ben tower is leaning noticeably, though not as much as the Tower of Pisa. If things get real bad, they may be forced to abandon the building to its fate and put up a new Parliament House.)

Across the world, landmark buildings are loved and venerated as emblems of local culture. The Notre Dam in Paris was damaged several times. Each time renovation and rebuilding were done with love and respect. If we had that kind of an approach, maintenance of the Taj Mahal in Agra would have been better. Instead, we started seeing it, too, in communal colours. Architecture reflects the nature of the society it represents. But let us be grateful for small mercies: Nobody has pulled down Qutub Minar to give the Mehrauli area a new Bharatiya look.

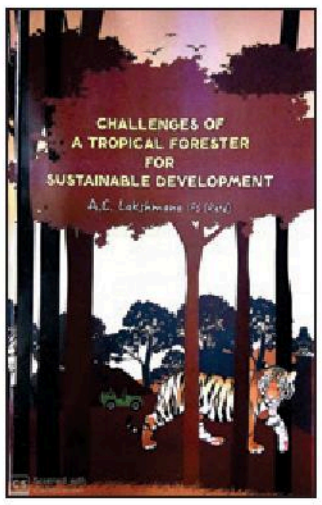
Challenges of a Tropical Forester, near death encounters with wildlife

A.C. Lakshmana



Title: "Challenges of a Tropical Forester for Sustainable Development
Author: A.C. Lakshmana
Pages: 136
Price: Rs. 200
Publisher: A.C. Lakshmana

My esteemed friend A.C. Lakshmana IFS, a retired Secretary to the Government of Karnataka, gave this book "Challenges of a Tropical Forester for Sustainable Development" for my perusal. Basically a son of a farmer, he hails from a village called Srinivasa Agrahara near Srirangapatna.

Graduating with a degree in Agriculture, he started his career as an Assistant Conservator of Forests in Mysore in 1962 and rose to the level of the Secretary to the Government of Karnataka in the 90s.

In this book written by him, a memoir of more than three decades of service in the Department of Forests, he has vividly narrated his experience both as a Government servant and as a field worker in the forests. Each chapter is filled with his exciting, near death encounters with the wildlife and how he was lucky enough each time to save himself.

In some of the chapters he describes how he could overcome the challenges posed by the vagaries of nature and man-made forest fires, every time attributing it to God's grace as a firm believer. Overall the book keeps the reader spellbound and makes it to read in one shot.

In the epilogue, Lakshmana surmises stressing on the importance of awakening of each stakeholder, common man, Government, NGOs and the educationists in saving the forests and thereby avoiding the calamities as it occurred in Kodagu and in other places recently. I am sure the readers who are familiar with Jim Corbet's book would appreciate Lakshmana's effort in this regard as it is a 'more near home' of his experiences in Chamarajanagar, Nagarahole, Kodagu, Bandipur, Koppa and even Bhadra forests. The cover page is aptly designed with his Jeep and the Tiger behind the trees.

—Dr. C.G. Narasimhan

'Removing Tipu's name from history textbooks is a wrong move'

Opines Historian Vasundhara Filliozat

Karnataka Itihasa Academy felicitated Historian Dr. Vasundhara Filliozat and her husband Prof. Pierre Sylvain in city yesterday. The Historian was conferred with the title 'Itihasa Samskruthi Sri' on the occasion.

Mysuru, Nov.12 (PM&SD) - Expressing displeasure over State Government's decision to remove materials related to Tipu Sultan from textbooks, Historian Vasundhara Filliozat said "Tipu might have done both good deeds and bad deeds. It is the duty of historians to record both for future generation."

She was speaking after receiving Itihasa Samskruthi Sri title conferred to her by Karnataka Itihasa Academy, Bengaluru, at her residence in Yadavagiri in city yesterday. "After the fall of Vijayanagar empire, Marathas hesitated to occupy Hampi, but the Nizam tried to take over Hampi. At that time, it was Tipu who claimed for it, as documented by the British. Before Tipu's rule, there were no limits for wickedness of British in Srirangapatna. It was Tipu who tried put an end to British and their brutality, but the brutality of the British has not been documented," she added.

"There is no mention of the name Vijayanagar in any of the 30 inscriptions. British rulers who came to power after the fall of Vijayanagar empire, limited Wadiyars to the Kingdom of Mysuru. The Maharaja of Mysore, in his inscriptions, used to say he was the King of Karnataka, so Vijayanagar empire should be called as Karnataka empire," she added.

As part of 33rd Annual Conference of Karnataka Itihasa Academy, the Academy felicitated Dr. Vasundhara Filliozat and her husband Prof. Pierre Sylvain Filliozat, who is a Sanskrit scholar and conferred the title, which carries a cash prize of Rs. 1 lakh. Academy Director Dr. Devarakonda Reddy and others were present on the occasion.

Potholes causing accidents on Manandavadi Road

Crater-like potholes on the stretch of Manandavadi Road near Nandi Petrol Bunk in city and lack of street lights on this stretch of the road is causing a lot of problems including accidents. A SOM reader, who sent this photograph, said that he suffered injuries after a fall while avoiding pothole on this dark stretch of road besides stating that many motorists have injured themselves while traversing on this road. Authorities concerned are urged to fill the potholes and provide street light on this stretch for the benefit of all.

Name-board crying for attention in Vijayanagar

The name-board of Gen. K.S. Thimayya Road installed near Yoganarasimhaswamy Temple in Vijayanagar is crying for attention as the paint is peeling off. Also, weeds and bushes have grown around the board which has to be cleared. Authorities concerned are urged to take steps to repaint the name-board and clean the spot for easy identification.

Plastic waste dumped on MG Road must be cleared

Plastic waste materials and other garbage dumped at the vacant space behind Dasara Exhibition Grounds on MG Road is posing a lot of problems to all. Also, foul smell is emanating from it forcing people passing by the road to cover their nose. Authorities concerned are urged to get the garbage cleared at the earliest.

Popping up Pothole Problem

Even MCC Boss is not spared !

The pothole ridden road in front of MCC Commissioner's bungalow at Yadavagiri.

Mysuru, Nov. 12 (RK&BCT)- One of the basic duties of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) is to provide a pothole-free road but the civic body has miserably failed with complaints of pothole-ridden roads pouring in from various parts of city on a day-to-day basis.

Forget main roads or extensions where potholes are ubiquitous, even the road in front of the MCC Commissioner's Bungalow is full of potholes and the officer drives to his office and back home on the same road.

For the record, the Commissioner is the highest decision-making authority in the MCC after the Deputy Commissioner. Though they have political bosses like the MP, MLA and Mayor, the Commissioner holds the key to crucial financial and administrative decisions. The MCC Commissioner's spacious bungalow is located on KRS Road - A. Ramanna Circle near the Vani Vilas Water Works. Aptly, the bungalow is called "Villa Vani Vilas".

A Star of Mysore reader called up this office today morning and mentioned about the pothole-ridden road. He says, the Commissioner's car takes the road to the right (of the bungalow gate) for him to reach his office and back home. While the right side road is pothole-free, the left side of the stretch is full of potholes, he said.

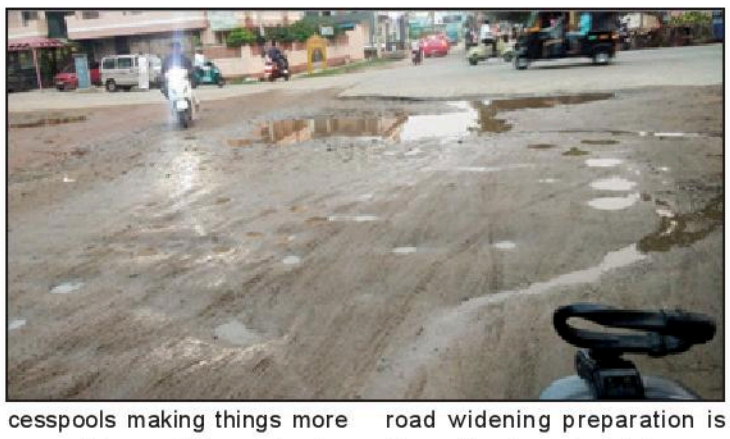
Following the call, SOM went to the spot and found that the reader's version was correct. On probing further, we found that many points of the KRS Road from the starting point near Rotary School till the Krishna Raja Sagar is unfit for travel. While at least cars can withstand the pothole, two-wheelers are put in serious danger especially when it rains where it is impossible to say if it is stagnant water or a pothole waiting for a victim.

MCC officials, on condition of anonymity, said that the road in front of their boss' house is bad because a lot of water tankers (generally a heavy vehicle) carrying water to and fro Vani Vilas Water Works damage the road.

"The road carries more pressure as there are many heavy vehicles travelling," they said. However, they were silent when asked why there were potholes on only one side of the road from the Commissioner's bungalow.

Seeing the plight of the road, a layman wonders if the MCC Commissioner cannot get his home-road fixed, how the officer can make Mysuru pothole-free.

JP Nagar Main Road in deplorable state



Mysuru, Nov.12 (YDS&US)- Most of the roads in city resemble lunar surface riddled with potholes and craters which when filled with water during rain makes it a nightmare for riders inviting accidents. The pity is, citizens pay road tax for plying on these filthy roads unfit for humans to move.

Though the situation is glaringly grim, the civic body remains silent giving evasive replies or false assurances to hoodwink the hapless residents. If at all some repair is done, it will be hotchpotch which just opens up if it rains.

Everyday thousands of vehicles ply on the long stretch of road from Chamundi Vana junction in Vidyaranyapuram to Ring Road junction passing in front of Sterling Theatre, said to be the main access road to JP Nagar. This road is so bad that there are no qualifying adjectives to describe the pathetic condition.

During Dasara, MCC filled up mud in the potholes and the mud obviously got eroded in rain making the road slushy with cesspools making things more worse. The mud filling contractor should also have made some quick bucks, opine the aggrieved residents questioning whether MCC is so broke to properly repair the road.

Two months ago on the pretext of widening the road, broken stones were laid on either sides and the residents still wait with fingers crossed for that big development to happen.

Same is the case on the road behind Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha in Lakshmipuram. The laid stone pieces move towards the road during rain with two-wheelers tending to skid any moment

Residents question, why the road widening preparation is done without a schedule to complete the work with asphalting.

During the proposed widening of road, a manhole in Vishweshwaranagar near Ganapathi Temple has come up above the road surface level with crushed stone filled all around it.

During night, two-wheeler riders tend to misjudge the location of the raised manhole and could crash.

The residents of JP Nagar and Vishweshwaranagar have appealed the Mysuru City Corporation authorities to set aside all typical reasons of proposals and tender invitations and come to real action.

Bank Manager knifed for asking to repay loan

Madikeri, Nov.12 (PS&KS)- A Bank Manager was brutally assaulted with a knife for asking a man to repay the loan he had taken.

Lokesh

While the injured Bank Manager is Lokesh of VSSN Bank, the man who brutally assaulted him with a knife is A. Sabu, a resident of Kadagadalu.

Sabu had taken loans from Kadagadalu and Ibnilavadi branches of VSSN Bank a few years ago but had not repaid the loans despite the Bank staff and the person who had given surety for the loans telling him to repay the same.

Meanwhile, Sabu again went to the Bank to obtain loan during which the Bank staff told him to provide a blank cheque which irked him. He then went out, brought a knife and hit Bank Manager Lokesh behind his neck, injuring him seriously and fled from the spot. Lokesh, who collapsed on the spot, was rushed to Madikeri General Hospital.

A case has been registered at Madikeri Rural Police Station and the Cops have launched a hunt to nab Sabu.

Mani

The deceased is Mani (27), a resident of Doddabyalalu village in the taluk. Mani had married Sahana of Kolimane village a year back.

Mani was proceeding on his bike to bring his wife from her parents' house in Kolimane village.

While he was proceeding on Bettadapura Main Road, he lost control of the bike and hit the retaining wall of the canal, which was dug for Karadilakkana Kere Lift Irrigation Project and fell into the canal along with the bike and died. Sub-Inspector Lokesh visited the spot. Post-mortem was conducted at Periyapatna Taluk Hospital and the body was handed over to his family members.

Bettadapura Police have registered a case.

Locked house looted

Mysuru, Nov.12 (SPN&KS)- House burglars, who gained entry into a locked house by forcing the front door open, have decamped with gold jewellery weighing about 100 grams from the house.

The burglary took place at the house of one Priyanka, located at Siddarthanagar.

A case has been registered at Nazarbad Police Station.

'The world is literally controlled by a few entrepreneurs'

Conference on Buddha concludes

Mysuru, Nov.12 (YDS&US)- "The world is not controlled by any politician, religious head or Government but literally by a few entrepreneurs," bemoaned University of Mysore (UoM) Registrar Prof. R. Shivappa. He was speaking at the valedictory of the two-day State-level Conference on 'Young minds toward Buddha' organised by Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Research & Extension Centre of UoM and 14th Tibetan College Students Conference, Bylakuppe, at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri here yesterday.

Prof. Shivappa pointed out that today the whole world is behind computer and technology especially the youth including those from India with Facebook, Whatsapp and other social media platforms becoming literally indispensable.

He wondered who is actually controlling the world which should be analysed. He hence suggested the youth to go behind Buddha, an epitome of knowledge.

He recalled that Buddha was able to decipher complex situations in simple words understandable even by a novice.

Continuing, Prof. Shivappa said that Buddha Dhyana would uphold the Constitutional values. He added that like Buddha, Basavanna and Ambedkar too sought the mental progress of humans.

Retired Professor from Sri Lanka Dr. Banthe Damenda Porage opined that India, Sri Lanka and Tibet were like 'Trimurthis' and added that Buddha born in India travelled to Sri Lanka also to share knowledge.

Centre Director Dr. J. Somashekar, 14th Tibetan College Students Conference President Banthe Sonam Phunsok, Conference Organising Secretary Dr. S. Narendra Kumar, UoM ICT Covenor Dr. Suresh and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Salutary

Pronunciation: sal-yuh-ter-ee.
Meaning: Promoting or conducive to some beneficial purpose; wholesome.

Origin: Salutary ultimately comes from Latin salūs (inflectional stem salūt-) "health, welfare, safety." In its sense of "promoting or conducive to some beneficial purpose; wholesome," salutary entered English in the late 1400s. Salutary, in its sense of "favorable to or promoting health; healthful," emerged in the mid-1600s. A synonym for salutary ("healthful") is salubrious, which is also rooted in Latin salūs. Salūs could also mean "greeting," as in greeting someone with "best wishes (for their well-being)." This meaning of salūs gave rise to the verb salūtāre "to greet, hail," source of the English noun and verb salute.
Example: After Gutenberg, books became widely available, setting off a cascade of salutary movements and innovations, including but not limited to the Reformation, the Enlightenment, the steam engine, journalism, modern literature, modern medicine, and modern democracy.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Still waters run deep

Meaning: A quiet or placid manner may conceal a passionate nature; a person who doesn't talk much and perhaps hides his complex thoughts on the matter.

Origin: Still waters run deep is a proverb of Latin origin now commonly taken to mean that a placid exterior hides a passionate or subtle nature. Formerly it also carried the warning that silent people are dangerous, as in Suffolk's comment on a fellow lord in William Shakespeare's play Henry VI part 2:
Smooth runs the water where the brook is deep,
And in his simple show he harbors treason...
No, no, my sovereign, Gloucester is a man
Unsounded yet and full of deep deceit. According to The Concise Oxford Dictionary of Proverbs, the first mention of the proverb appeared in Classical times in the form altissima quaeque flumina minimo sono labi (the deepest rivers flow with least sound) in a history of Alexander the Great by Quintus Rufus Curtius and is there claimed as being of Bactrian origin. The earliest use in English sources goes back to 1400.
Example: "Though she seldom expresses her thoughts in class, her still waters run deep."

After a year's gap...

Bengaluru Open returns to ATP Challenger Tour

Bengaluru, Nov.12- The Bengaluru Open, which has now become a coveted stop on the ATP Challenger Tour, returns to the city after skipping the 2019 calendar of events. The three-month postponement has thus resulted in the event being moved into the new season, as opposed to the usual time when it is held at the fag end of the season.

The Bengaluru Open will be held from February 10-16 at the Karnataka State Lawn Tennis Association (KSLTA). The tournament will follow the Pune ATP 250, an ATP Tour event, and the Australian Open.

A prize money of $162,000 is on offer, making it the richest on the ATP Challenger circuit in terms of prize money played across the globe.

The Bengaluru Open has been receiving major support from the Government of Karnataka along with help from corporate sponsors. It has established itself as a platform for national and international players, as well as aspiring local players, to compete at an International Challenger stage and improve their ATP rankings.

The KSLTA, which is not averse to hosting national and international events, will be the cynosure of all eyes once again with some of the top players in the under-100 bracket (world rankings) clashing for honours.

Paes drops out of Top-100 for first time in 19 years

New Delhi, Nov.12- Veteran tennis star Leander Paes on Monday dropped out of the top-100 bracket for the first time in 19 years, slipping to 101 after losing five places in the ATP doubles chart.

With 856 points, Paes is now fourth-highest ranked Indian player behind Rohan Bopanna (38), Divij Sharan (46) and Purav Raja, who re-entered the top-100 by jumping eight places to 93. The last time the 46-year-old Paes was placed outside top-100 was in October 2000 when he was ranked 118.

Paes, one of the finest tennis players that India has seen, dominated the doubles circuit with compatriot Mahesh Bhupathi between the late 1990s and early 2000s.

In August 2014, Paes had lost his place in the top-10 and in another two years time he was outside the top-50 as well. The passionate Paes, winner of 18 Grand Slam titles, has not played since US Open this year in September.

Leander Paes

He has made himself available for the upcoming Davis Cup tie against Pakistan.

Meanwhile, in the singles, Prajnesh Gunneswaran continues to be India's top-ranked singles player though the Chennai left-hander dropped a rung to 95 and was followed by Sumit Nagal (127, +2), Ramkumar Ramanathan (190, +9), Sasi Kumar Mukund (250, +2) and Saketh Myneni (267, -1).
